

Kellie O'Brien

I climbed it in 1999 and by then I was in love with both Alaska and the Fairbanks community and decided to call it home. I met my husband skiing in 2003 and now I have 3 amazing kids with him. We built a log home in the hills outside of Fairbanks with sweat equity, have a small family farm, and are teaching our kids to fish and hunt. We own a small river guiding company and in the summer I can usually be found on one of the Interior rivers. But truth be told, it is the winter that I prefer, when I can put on my snowshoes or skis and go explore the silence. I began involvement with FNSBSD as a parent volunteer at University Park Elementary, then PTA President, Science Fair Chairman, Grade 3 reading tutor and joined ANE in 2017.
