

Dear Special Ed Teachers & Therapists,

Please note the following principles when considering AT for your students:

The IEP is the primary communication document for continuity with AT supports and accommodations.

- a. PLAFFP - can give essential information and data from assessments (e.g. uPAR) and AT trials
    - i. This is a great place to record evidence that a particular AT device or service is effective
  - b. Special Factors - can indicate the need for AT (description of features listed also), and the need for AEM/Bookshare under "print disability"
    - i. the description should be specific in AT features (e.g. Text-to-speech & highlighting printed materials; voice recognition; spelling/homophone checker; word prediction)
    - ii. It may mention specific devices and apps that were used as an example
  - c. Accommodations - AT description can be cut/pasted to this section also (especially for secondary schools that only circulate this section of the IEP to general teachers)... And AT services & trainings for staff, parent, or student are listed under: What supports/training do school personnel need?
    - i. Note that AT services must be requested (highlighted link below). Goalview forms do not trigger any follow up.
- 2. AT devices and services must be requested at the local level (typically by case manager)
- a. AT devices are requested in the fall and throughout the year by IEP team initiative. All devices are returned and wiped clean in the spring. Loans are extended to ESY services as needed, but then wiped for management purposes before the fall.
    - i. Please backup your student's content or profile to a folder in Google Drive shared by you, the student, and the next case manager.
    - ii. Please also document the evidence for AT need (assessed by trial) to include in the next AT device request if seeking a long term loan.
  - b. AT services are requested as needed.
    - i. When training students, we ask that a staff person (and parent if relevant) is present to master the AT for instruction in the student's learning environment.
    - ii. AT assessments should begin with a student's team completing a DMG form (AT Decision Making Guide) to make a plan for success and data on a particular skill. Consultation is not required here, any team can proceed with an AT assessment.
- 3. No device loan is guaranteed
- a. The AT library is intended for trials (so IEP/504 teams may assess the effectiveness of various AT), though long term circulation of items may occur.

- b. AT features are available in a variety of formats (e.g. iPad apps, Chrome extensions, low - high tech devices) and can typically be met with the technologies already available in the schools, including Read&Write for Google Chrome extension and other software.

Thanks for your attention to this email. It is our hope that fewer students will be delayed in AT services when this important information is documented in the IEP.

Please let us know how we can help you.

The AT team
